Here is Calvin - 1956 tucked between last year and next year. This year is unique, but it is not isolated. The buildings are the same, and many of the same professors give the same lectures to people who look the same as last year's students. But there is a treasured element peculiar to everything—the thing that accentuates Calvin - 1956 and makes it different from other years. Some students move ahead on a marked course; others see visions of unexplored learning. Proficiency in a score of music, command of a speech, publication of words in print, even a long-desired friendship—these stand as milestones of this year. The future of four years seems long to those beginning a college career; the past is short to those who sight a final goal.

The PRISM records both the unique and the common. Student moments to remember are preserved in this book, frantically edited by Henry Ploegstra with Peter Huiner clutching the purse strings.

CALVIN COLLEGE • GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN

Calvin • 1956

This is Calvin 1956. Seventeen acres of concrete, brick, grass and people, but mostly people. Calvin is a place where people come to live, to learn to live, and to study what has lived. We measure our lives by footsteps over concrete from class to class.

GUARDING the southeast corner is the Seminary, hushed and meditative. At intervals life springs from it and eager feet hurry down the slope to the Commons and coffee.

Science Building

CLEAN and efficient, the Science Building is a modern tribute to Newton's Law of Gravitation and $E mc^2$, atoms, ergs and asteroids.

Men's Dormitory

The Administration Building with sturdy pillars, classic simplicity—and class complexity—houses the humanities and the campus offices. Jammed sidewalks overflow between these buildings. Test tube and text book go to make the complete man. Ambitious freshmen on campus unite cloister and hearth by rapid steps between Library and Dormitory.

◊ Commons Building

GRAND RAPIDS houses Calvin as a favorite son—gives Calvin pictures and words in the Press and Herald; leads our Homecoming motorcade; furnishes Hattems, Franklin Park, and Holiday Bowling. A fare of twenty cents or three for fifty, and the city bus will joggle you anywhere—game at Burton gym, job at Steks, or date to the Civic. And some while walking notice the conservative homes, maple and oak trees, squirrels, kids, nice noise, and the smell of home-cooked meals.

Skyline view from Butterworth Hospital.

1331 Franklin S. E. is not located on an island nor on the 27th floor of an Ivory Tower, but in watchful, comfortable, sedate Grand Rapids—Michigan's second largest city.

CALVIN students are not uniform like fixtures on desks. They are different—cosmopolitan Chicago Paterson Grosse Point, provincial Rudyard Holland Steamboat Rock; high close city houses, little numbered houses, plain houses, flat eyestretching cornfields, swelling wheat country, brown dry hills, rustic green turf and trees. Comes September, Greyhounds, trains, and cars are crowded with many students bound for many campuses. About fifteen hundred come to Calvin.

Room or apartment—the student finds that home is where you hang a rain-coat.

Burning the midnight kerosene.

STUDENTS live in many places. Many of them unpack their suitcases on campus. Lining Franklin Street are ten large houses owned by the college and maintained by Ladies' Guilds from local churches. The Men's Dorm reverberates with life as the fellows find neighbors only as distant as a pillow-throw. Upperclassmen find rooms at the Vander Ploegs, the Kooops, and the Stevens who live in the many substantial homes in southeast Grand Rapids. Some students do not leave home at all. They are Grand Rapids natives. But even for them, coming to Calvin is more than a mile move up Franklin street.

Knitting up the ravelled sleeve of care.

But we didn't get him.

Dorm deluge.

A broad hint.

If college studies provide the learning, college living provides the social relations. Shared in common are letters and food from home, a bathroom, and a party line. Yet we remain individuals though we are mostly all Protestant, Dutch, conservative—and Republican.

Another 7:50 a.m.

"Don't miss this, 'Principles of Third Grade Finger Painting.' "

REGISTRATION seems impossible the first time through. One feels like the laboratory rat being tested in the mazes of a labyrinth. The Big Sister service helps but does not remove the problems. Blocks, sections, gym, locker, chapel seat, 7:50 a.m. and Saturday classes move in a bewildering whirl. We make first contact with professors across counseling and registration tables. Their humanity is proved genuine by their kind attention and patient helpfulness.

Now hear this! Now hear this!

IF REGISTRATION'S done, can class be far behind? Unused books, new notes from different profs, unknown classmates fascinate us for a time.

"The Phoenicians resembled the modern Dutch, but the Phoenicians soon became civilized."

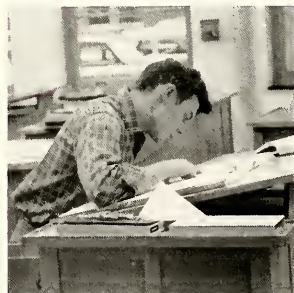

Wolthuis distillery, brewing by appointment only.

Well-thought resolutions for assigned study times, more library reading and concentrated attention in class, pave the way to the first classes. Then come 1,000 pages of outside reading. Term papers multiply, lab hours pile up, extra-curricular activities boom, and blue-books insidiously come and go.

"I hope this is a pine tree, because it's the only one I need."

PERFECT schemes for study are modified by leaf collections, basketball practice, Thespian committee meeting or CHIMES deadlines. In the wake of all these, float the ruins of good intentions. Late hours, cramming, writing under pressure characterize the semester's work.

People, people everywhere, and not a place to think.

If you don't know where this is, we're not telling.

The rush for seats in the library indicates either an increased enrollment, or a keen study sensibility, or both. We learn quickly how to locate books and magazines. What we cannot find, Mrs. Ornee can. Three-day books become as popular as paperback novels. Comfortably furnished, the periodical room, the reference room, and the reading room are used most. The cloistered stacks are reserved for crammers and ascetics.

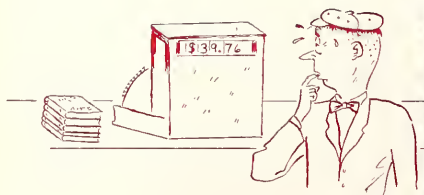

The card game (approved by Synod 1928).

"That syllabus is coming out this summer, with footnotes."

ALTHOUGH unpretentious, the Bookstore accommodates the book needs of the entire college. Students enter empty-handed and emerge broke, carrying a semester's load in their arms. The bookstore shelves are lined with Modern Library Editions, American and foreign paperbacks, and infinite scholar's supplies. The Bookstore runs a close second to the snack bar as a sound investment for our extra pennies.

Wait until she adds them up!

Parking—day or night—no green stamps.

Mike Cole, The Law.

If two bodies could occupy the same place at the same time, Calvin would have no parking problem. Too many cars for too few spaces complicate a dignified arrival at the campus. Mike, the local representative of law and order, continually exposes new hiding places and evasions. A yellow ticket means no refund of your student fee.

Politburo parking only.

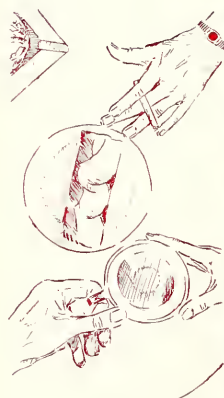

Here hundreds of students eat thousands of meals.

LINES, lines, lines. For coffee, lunch, and dinner. Sunday, Monday, Anyday. Lines, lines, lines. The inevitable monotony of institutional cooking, the inevitable noodles and sweet rolls on Wednesday, fish on Friday and carefully regulated servings of prunes all tempt students into hasty marriage.

Cash and carry—no charge!

Everything from bibs to cigars.

The Commons lounge is a model of modern comfort. Conversation instead of concentration reigns, and the hum of talking seldom stops. This is punctuated by occasional band concerts, pep rallies, and romancing. The only thing it lacks is footstools.

Commons Lounge: Sleep, Smoke, Study—and Sousa.

9:45, Coffee time and chapel time.

CHAPEL time is a numbered seat, an auditorium filled with students, songs sung together. It is a brief talk based on the Bible, a prayer and the Doxology. Chapel time is the 15 minute pause three times a week which is a concrete reminder that Calvin is a positive Christian college. This interlude during busy campus life ties loose ends together and completes the pattern of our God-centered studies. But chapel is not limited to students. Five days a week at 9:45 a.m., WFUR carries Calvin Chapel Time over its air waves to Grand Rapids. Across western Michigan by the medium of several stations, thousands of people pause daily with the student body of Calvin for a few moments of devotion.

"Praise God from whom . . ."

The faculty line-up.

HERE the student body watch the faculty in full regalia—tasselled mortarboards and academic robes and the school year 1955-56 officially opened. "The Key of Knowledge" was defined and offered to the students by President William Spoelhof.

Even two blocks is a long walk in the rain.

Misses Blecker and Roghair, teachers at Lansing, Illinois Christian School.

Dr. DeBruyn from the Dutch East Indies.

PEOPLE other than students pass through Calvin. Ladies Aid Societies troop through the Library, and visiting parents look in wonder. Teachers hold conventions and a Lieutenant Governor comes from Lansing. I.R.C. men, though Republican, welcome Democrat Hart. Some bright lights come from abroad. A colonial expert from the Dutch East Indies, Dr. De Bruyn, lectured on campus.

Mr. DeVries and Lt. Gov. Hart.

"The quality of mercy is not strained, . . ."

DRAMA is more than the hours upon the stage. The three nights during which the drama is played are only a small fraction of the total effort. Day and night practice, worry and headache, lines, props, sets, programs, make-up—these make the play. Tension begins while selecting a piece of drama, it rises as parts are cast. Tempers become sharper and feelings keener as opening night approaches.

"We're finally engaged

The Day Family.

Commanding this youthful energy is the director, ever calm and capable. She adds the third dimension that makes characters people. "Life with Mother" was produced November 16, 17 and 18. Audiences were taken to the old Globe Theatre in London March 7, 8 and 9 when the Thespians gave Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

"You know we French stormed

Paint—Paint—Paint.

"You can say Chrysanthemums ... but with me 'mum's' the word."

Up and over!

CALVIN's top athletes watch the MIAA standings with an eagle's eye. Many of the rest of us watch with the bulletin board in the Commons with just as careful attention to see how our favorite intramural team is doing.

THE gym resounds with shouts and thumps of running feet. Franklin Park is full of panting Turkey-Trotters and football. The parking lot becomes a stadium; bowling pins crash; the nets swish; Intramurals march on.

"Saturday afternoon in the Calvin Stadium, brought to you by . . ."

The Optimist

THE publications office is the perennial hang-out of Calvin's pseudo-intellectuals. This workshop compresses many words into weekly CHIMES, a PRISM, and two LIT REVIEWS.

No comment necessary. I've written all the other captions.

Mary

Check that, or the Publication Committee will.

The editor in shirtsleeves okays this week's CHIMES. Distribution comes Friday after chapel. In the Commons, books and coffee are ignored as dates for next week are checked with the TooDoo column. A few read the editorial and wonder. And there's news: Debate team places first in the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League, the Pinks outscore the Bolsheviks in Intramurals. "Calvin Night" features Plantinga with the Grand Rapids Symphony, and Lit Review deadline is April 7. Political Perspectives report on city elections and Criterion reviews "Merchant of Venice" and claims Shylock "approached . . . professional competence."

WINTER means snow and boots, ice, slush, thaw, and coughing. To balance these is one night's view of a million diamond flakes under the street light and the echo of Handel's "Messiah": "For unto us a child is born. unto us a son is given: . . ."

HAKE some alumni's hand" encouraged the welcome of Calvin grads.

The 1956 Homecoming was a three-day fete. Dynamics behind the smoothly-run celebration was the Homecoming committee. But committees are impersonal. To greet alumni, the student body selected a Queen and attendants. Fair and pleasant Audrey Lotterman reigned with her court of Harlean Stremler, Ruth Yonker, Ruth Schut, and Jan Meeter. A student motorcade escorted the royalty downtown to the Civic Auditorium. Here Rev. J. D. Eppinga, President of the Alumni Association, crowned Queen Audrey at the Albion-Calvin game. The Britons bowed to the Knights by the score of 73-62.

THAT night—a scrappy game, the maroon and gold float as throne for Queen Audrey and her court, the spotlight, coronation, crowd, and cheers. The Class of 1957 was judged as sponsoring the best Homecoming display. Later, merry crowds jammed downtown streets to return to the Commons for coffee. Saturday morning featured a special Alumni chapel and classes could be visited.

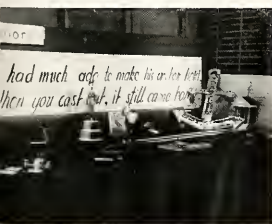

The throne

"Alumnite" on Thursday evening took alumni back twenty-five years to 1931 to see themselves as we see them. A talented class graduated in 1931; several returned: President Spoelhof, Professors De Jonge, Timmerman, Stob, Zylstra, Plantinga, and Boersma. Students joined alumni on Friday afternoon to hear lectures by Calvin doctors. Dr. Timmerman spoke on "Five Travelers;" Dr. Bouma, "Some Aspects of a Christian Sociology;" and Dr. Stob, "Existentialism."

Professor Seymour Swets

ONE of the people who made 1956 what it was is Professor Seymour Swets. During 1956 he directed his thirty-third Messiah performance, his sixteenth Elijah performance, produced his twenty-fifth A Capella Choir and went on his thirty-third tour. He is a constant source of energy and enthusiasm to the people who sing under his direction. His productions are a source of inspiration and real musical enjoyment to the audiences. Those of us who sang for him this year and every year will never forget his thunderstorm wrath followed immediately by his sunny smile. He loves his work, music, and wants everyone who touches music to love it as much as he does.

"And the glory, the glory of the Lord . . ."

For his part in making 1956 the best year year Calvin has ever had, the students of Calvin College take this means to honor Professor Swets.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Tradition toppled as the Class of 1957 was host to the Senior Class at the Pantlind Hotel. The gayety of the Old South filled the Ball Room, and melodies of Stephen Foster accompanied the dinner. The Junior-Senior Banquet is the one formal event on the school calendar. The spring night in April brings changes: the girl in charcoal kneesocks is the belle in pastel taffeta, and the guy in unpressed suntans is her dashing escort.

"And all sat down and ate with fury."

Thinking?

EXAM TIME

Bluebooks are cheap, two for a nickel. But poured full of exhaustive hours of cramming, a bluebook becomes a valuable piece. During the exam, the mind churns fitfully and reams of data come to the surface and disappear again. Do cats have 26 or 29 vertebrae? Was it Hannibal or Mussolini who "crossed the Rubicon?" And what were the five metaphysical implications of the Isagoge of Porphyry?

Zuiderveen's lullaby

Where are the real ones?

MORTARBOARDS and tassels, Pomp and Circumstance, speeches, name and degree, the long walk across the stage, and finally, clutching a diploma, the 1956 graduate faces life. These people did not live in a vacuum nor in a conditioning greenhouse but on a Christian campus where thoughts and actions could be articulated and performed. No college can impose duties upon its graduates, it can only show choices. The man who sees visions of the world's knowledge is first to admit that few books were read, poor thoughts were stated in poorer words, and hours of time were idled in four years. For this man, this graduate, Calvin College is far more than seventeen acres of building, land and people. It is offering the heart, mind, and strength to God, promptly and sincerely.

Don't look so smug!

The 1956 PRISM Presents . . .

THE PRESIDENT AND FACULTY OF CALVIN COLLEGE

NUMBERING OUR DAYS

The 1956 Prism honors the Class of 1956 by presenting the Year 1956. The year is not just another one in a long succession of college years, nor is the class just another class. The 1956 Prism radiates the spirit—vigorous, realistic, and individualistic—of "This is the Year!" The Prism's pages bid you count your days at Calvin, not routinely, but understandingly.

"Teach us to number our days" is the Psalmist's prayer, not for the old in age but for the young in spirit. Youth ever counts its days, but not always accurately or purposefully.

There is the counting by mere enumeration which, for a college student, can be nothing more than numbering the days involved in a succession of events—dates, bluebooks, the end of the semester, graduation, marriage, graduate school, the armed services. This is a rather low order and simple form of counting. All of us engage in it, but it is not at all purposeful.

Of a higher order and of much greater worth is counting in terms of gains made and values achieved. In this sense, numbering our days means "to esteem," "to judge." Thus we pick the golden moments, the precious experiences, and the significant incidents for our personal record. This is important, but it is still not sufficient, for the definition fails to establish the absolute norms which make numbering our days really significant.

In the context of "teach us to number our days, that we may get us a heart of wisdom," numbering or counting means "to understand." Numbering our days means: So measure your days that each day may be lived in the perfect understanding of the fear of the Lord, which is the beginning of wisdom. It means that we must live each day in a constant consciousness of the high calling of applying ourselves to the fear of the Lord.

God grant that such may be the measure of your Calvin Days. Only this can give to the Year 1956 and to the days of this year an abiding significance.

William Spoelhof

BIBLE

The aim of the Bible department is to teach the Bible as more than a text book: as a foundation for other studies and a lens through which to view the rest of our life.

BIOLOGY

Theoretically, the biology department studies life. Actually, the only things that biology students see are things that used to be alive, in various stages of decomposition. The Biology department boasts the most redolent labs on campus.

CHEMISTRY

Dr. Wolthuis teaches freshmen how to chase atoms around a test tube and how to tell what they are after they have caught them. Many strange concoctions are made in labs under the pretense of experimentation. But it takes some people all semester to learn how to boil water.

CLASSICAL LANGUAGES

For a thrilling semester's journey go with Mr. Van Elderen and Xenophon on an expedition to seize the throne of Persia. Or if you prefer not to take such an extended trip, stay around for the second semester when you witness the suspenseful trial of ATHENS VS. SOC-RATES, as told by his old buddy, Plato.

ECONOMICS and SOCIOLOGY

How in the world most of us stay out of the poorhouse is what Professor Vanden Berg explains. How in the world most of us stay out of jail is Dr. Bouma's work. When some people do get in, the sociology students help them by their work at the juvenile home.

EDUCATION

ENGLISH

Among the phases of the activities of the English Department, are certain ones devoted to developing the talented aspects of young writers in whose cases they are assisted in finding positions such as on the literary staff of the Prism.

HISTORY

Who reigned in whose stead for how many years in the sixth century B.C. is an important question to the history department. Tracing the course of our collective living together on this planet from who knows when till now, keeps all the students guessing and the professors chuckling when bluebook time comes around.

PHYSICS and ENGINEERING

Here the builders and technicians of tomorrow's skyscrapers and jet planes get their first instruction in the art of drawing a straight line. No atoms are smashed on Calvin campus—only the students go around in circles. Some of the most basic principles of physics were demonstrated at Homecoming.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PSYCHOLOGY

Why people act that way, and if not, why not, is what Drs. Daling and Plantinga tell their students. Mental Hygiene, or, "How to get a Clean Mind," is one of the most popular courses. Because it gives people an understanding of some of their problems and how to try to solve them, the classes in this department are always crowded.

PHILOSOPHY

SPEECH

Clutching grimly to the podium students learn how to mold their hazy thoughts and lofty ideals into a three point outline. Students are each other's most severe critics, closely rivaled by Professor Berg-huis. Thumping hearts and perspiring palms slowly give way to suave talking and smooth gesturing. Another orator mounts the soap-box.

PRISM

The symbol of a prism for this yearbook was not an arbitrary choice. The diffused lights on campus passing through the prism are refracted into the organized pages of this book. This may sound trite; it has been said before, but to capture the raison d'être of the PRISM is necessary unless it be lost in a mass of details.

Peter Huiner, Business Manager.

To choose what is representative of Calvin College and ignore the irrelevant requires an editor. And production means staffs. Photography staff catches the moment's action, a ball poised on the rim of the basket or the gesture of the debater. Literary staff packs each sentence with the universality and uniqueness of 1956 in clubs, fine arts, and athletics. Publication of the PRISM entails manual and mundane jobs like typing lists of names, pasting pictures, proof-reading copy, collecting ads, standing people in rows and making them smile. If we do not become lost in these details, the true value of the PRISM will have been realized. A unified picture of Calvin College is our desire, not hiding the individual, but seeking the commonness of our different ways.

THE LITERARY REVIEW

The size of a college is not to be determined by the number of A.B.'s or scholarships it grants each year, but by the quality of men and women it graduates. Calvin can remain small numerically and yet achieve bigness in this more important, qualitative sense. The impact of our graduates upon the scholarly, and especially the literary, world is not yet appreciable. The LITERARY REVIEW is a means for and a mirror of progress toward becoming big through its encouragement of originally expressive writing. Monetary rewards provide further stimuli for any type of superior original writing, whether it be poetry, fiction, or essay, creative or critical, seriously reflective or delightfully amusing. It is published twice yearly, or in an ideal situation, three times per year, its frequency depending upon the availability of materials.

Editor R. Staal; Bus. Manager A. Schuring.

Brandon Wiers, Editor-in-Chief.

CHIMES

The 1956 CHIMES idealistically tries to combine the uniqueness of an 18th century journal and the interest of a 20th century newspaper—and maintain a collegiate audience. Curtailing news items to a minimum, more paper space was appropriated for creative and polemical student expression. Stimulated by the independence of the paper, enterprising writers submit artistic ventures to the criteria of peers.

Being the sole outlet for general literary action on the campus unifies the staff for its constant and courageous exposition of what Calvin students are doing and thinking. CALVINISM CLUB

Aiming to perpetuate the wealth of material expounded by John Calvin, the members of this organization convene bi-weekly. Papers which are conceived within the framework of the world and life view are read at the meetings. The basic interrelation of faith and everyday things like studying and working becomes more apparent through discussion with others. Professor J. Weidenaar serves as sponsor and moderator.

SEATED: J. Talen, P. Kreeft, M. Tromp, President: W. Bouwsma, R. King.

CHESS CLUB

A fascination for the game of chess has inspired the organization of this new club at Calvin. Once a week its members meet in the Administration Building to pit their wits against one another in absorbing matches of this challenging game. But not only do they test their skill with fellow members, they also have arranged matches with chess teams of other colleges, M.S.U. among them, as well as with the Grand Rapids champion. Capturing kings intrigues many people, promising longevity for this new and different group.

ECONOMICS CLUB

Consisting of economics majors under the sponsorship of Professor Vanden Berg, this club meets monthly "to discuss and investigate Economics and Business in the light of Calvinistic principles." A highlight of the season for the club was a trip to Michigan State University for a dinner, a meeting with the faculty of the Business school and a football game. Lectures by businessmen and films acquainting members with many phases of economics and business, provided the remainder of the agenda for the year.

ENGINEERING CLUB

Acquainting its members with the problem and challenge in various industrial fields, bi-weekly meetings are held with Professor Wassink as faculty advisor. During the first semester the club visited a steel mill at Gary, Indiana. The members took a tour of the General Motors plant during the second term. Through these tours and by means of speakers from various industrial fields, the Engineering Club achieves its aim of promoting a broader knowledge of this field.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The complexity of world affairs requires effort by anyone wishing to understand international situations and their underlying problems. Giving Christian emphasis to this objective, the I.R.C. meets bi-weekly at the home of its sponsor, Professor R. Drost. Animated discussions following lectures (occasionally illustrated by slides) were led by notable men who had experiences with foreign political situations. The visit to the United Nations Workshop, a project begun two years ago, has become an annual affair. Another highlight this year was the visit with one of the nation's former first ladies, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

MEN'S LITERARY CLUB

Men's Lit Club is composed of students who wish to study literature more intensely than is done in the classroom. Meeting bi-weekly for discussion, one member serves as host and presents a paper on the evening's topic. Works such as Huxley's Point Counter Point, Cellini's Autobiography, and Greene's End of the Affair are examined for their literary quality and significance. The sponsors, Dr. S. Vander Weele and Mr. P. Oppewall, encourage self-expression and seek to integrate ideas into a meaningful whole.

MISSION CLUB

Cognizant of the imperative "Go ye into all the world . . ." the students comprising the Mission Club realize that Grand Rapids is their "world." Positive and spiritually rewarding activities include frequent visits to the home for the blind and the poor farm. Visions of incomplete lives without the knowledge of Christ are given reality by speakers from mission fields. Discussion reveals the ever widening challenge and increasing need for dedicated personnel in this work. The club is lead by Professor H. Van Til.

PHI SIGMA ALPHA

Active interest in government and an urge to develop a clearer understanding of the concept of citizenship enlightened by Christian principles prompted the formation of the Political Science Association. American political action is investigated and discussed on its variegated levels. Speeches by leading political officials, including the Attorney-General of Michigan, and trips to the state capitol in Lansing provided behind-the-scene views of government machinery. Feature of the year was a discussion of city politics at the home of one of the city commissioners. The meetings occurring bi-weekly are open to all students who are interested in political affairs.

PHI TAU KAPPA

The academic quality of most students varies in direct proportion to the calibre of the teacher. Recognizing this responsibility in their future role as educators, the members of the Future Teachers Club gather to examine pedagogical problems likely to occur. Imperative to the maintenance of our cultural traditions is the thorough preparation and sincere dedication of coming teachers. Future ideals of scholastic and artistic achievement will remain unattainable if better academic foundations are overlooked. These pertinent issues are discussed by the group with experienced comments offered by the sponsors, Professors De Beer and Flokstra. Christian Education Week was observed with a series of special chapel exercises. Off-campus speakers integrated their topics into the theme. "Christian Schools—Your Investment in America."

PHYTOZOON CLUB

An interest in delving into the mysteries of organic science is common to the members of the Phytozoon Club. Bi-weekly meetings are held and the group discusses topics relative to the science of living things. The course of study pursued by most of the members is biology or chemistry and the club opens the future for many by exploring financial and scholastic advantages offered by modern science. Formal activities are necessarily limited but, resulting from mutual interests, each meeting develops socially as well as scholastically. The club is under the sponsorship of Professors Bengelink and Karsten.

PLATO CLUB

The Plato Club attempts to extend the familiarity with philosophical concepts beyond the classroom discussion and to focus attention upon a specific element in the writings of Plato. This year "Phaedo" and "Theatetus" were emphasized from the Dialogues. The topic is approached by the presentation of a paper by a member of the group. Informal discussion is guided and supplemented by Dr. W. H. Jellema. This group is exclusive to male students with the prerequisite of one year of philosophy.

PRE-SEMINARY CLUB

Anticipating a future in Calvin Seminary, students enrolled in this preparatory course are unified by mutual interests. Many discussions were focused upon coming pastoral duties and their implications. The five central themes of Calvinism formed the basis of study by the group. Their activities for this year include the sponsorship of a travelogue and a hymn sing. The faculty advisor is Rev. John Bratt.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Newcomer on the social scene this year is the Psychology Club. Qualified by an introductory course in psychology, the members meet bi-weekly to share their fascination for this science of the Self. Activities of the club include discussions on various aspects of mental states and processes. One meeting featured psychiatrist, Dr. Rooks, informing the group on the psychology of religion. The sponsor of the club is Professor C. Plantinga.

SEATED: B. Gras, G. Haan, I. DeWitt.

RADIO CLUB

Attraction to electronics as a general field and to radio specifically gives impetus to this organization. Without the aid of a sponsor, the club operates an amateur radio station which can contact other stations anywhere in the United States. Student-conducted code and radio theory classes play an important part in the activity of this club. Field trips were made to radio, television and Hi-Fi stations. Viewing their activity both as a hobby and with an eye to the future, these young men provide their own extra-curricular interests on the campus.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Human relations and social processes are the objects of study of the Sociology Club. A better understanding and application of collegiate and graduate studies to social welfare enables members to visualize future opportunities. The activity of the club this season involved a field trip to the University of Chicago for an inter-collegiate meeting. Guest speakers were drawn from various social welfare and research groups in and surrounding Grand Rapids. Several club members are employed as assistants by social service agencies in the city. The club sponsor is Dr. Donald Bouma. Club membership is limited to those enrolled in sociology courses and the group meets bi-weekly.

VARSITY CLUB

A group of jolly good fellows, the Varsity Club promotes the physical education program at Calvin, and encourages physical education programs in the Christian elementary and high schools. Any male student who has won a letter at Calvin in any sport—basketball, track, tennis, golf, cross-country or basketball—is eligible for membership in the club. Members meet monthly with their sponsors, Mr. D. Tuuk, Coach B. Steen and Mr. A. B. Lewen. Varsity Club sponsored many activities at Calvin including the Varsity-Alumni game, basketball programs, a variety program, Counter Courtin' Week and the Kangaroo Court. Sponsoring Christian junior high track and tennis meets and purchasing audio-visual aids, a whirlpool and a new bulletin board were accomplishments of the club this year.

VETERANS' CLUB

The veterans are a distinct segment of the enrollment of Calvin. They are known best by their organized efforts—the Veterans Club. These men show a vital interest in campus life, besides sharing their common experiences with each other. Distinct evidences of their interest are movies in the auditorium on Friday evenings, buses chartered for student use for out-of-town basketball games, the striking color guard at home basketball games, and the foreign nations display in the library. Faculty advisors are Walter DeVries and Henry De Wit.

WOMEN'S LITERARY CLUB

Members of this organization are girls qualified by an extracurricular interest in literature. Lit Club held twelve meetings this year with members acting as hostess. A paper, written by one of the group on a selected book, is read and discussion ensues, aptly supplemented by comments from Professor J. Timmerman, patient advisor. With everyone voicing opinions, this club serves as a medium to mingle ideas about books and drama such as Dostoevski's The Brothers Karamazov and Miller's Death of a Salesman.

STANDING: R. Shaarda, G. De Kruyter, R. Balkema, N. DeNooyer.
SEATED: E. Van Noord, M. Kemme, M. Kool, N. Postmus, N. Oosthoek, B. Steen.

INTRAMURAL COUNCIL

The Intramural Council, in its second year of operation, successfully directed a complete program of activities. Working with the physical education department, they seek to give an opportunity for all students to join in extracurricular sports. Golf, ping-pong, swimming, volley ball, football and basketball are among the many choices provided. The cross-country Turkey-Trot, sponsored by the council, is becoming an annual event. A point system is used to determine the championship for which the intramural trophy is awarded to the winning class. Each class is represented by one man and one woman student; the school athletic directors serve as advisors. Enthusiastic participation indicates the popularity and success of this program.

ORATORIO SOCIETY

Professor Seymour Swets

To what more glorious purpose can one sing than to the glory of his Maker. Each winter season brings an annual presentation of Handel's Messiah. The five hundred voice chorus and the forty-five piece orchestra are under the capable baton of Seymour Swets. Every year the people of the surrounding area flock to hear the strains of this glorious music telling of the birth and sufferings of Christ, and every year they slowly wend their way homeward with the melodies on their lips and the precious words in their hearts.

The Spring of 1956 also brought fine music to the community as Mendelssohn's Elijah was presented. Again the soloists, the orchestra, and the chorus were tuned to sing HIS praise and once again each heart was touched.

CONCERT BAND

Professor Harold P. Geerdes

"With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise unto the Lord . . ." In the Fall Music Festival, the largest band in Calvin's history, numbering seventy-nine players, presented their group of numbers. Other activities included the Fall Band Concert, the spring tour through the Great Lakes region, and the Spring Band Concert. The Pep Band of eighteen members represented the band and provided a stirring note to the basketball games.

ORCHESTRA

Harold Geerdes

"What an enchanted world is this, what music is heard, when these master fiddlers play," or, as the critic of the Grand Rapids Press acclaimed, it was the finest orchestra yet. The thirty-five piece Calvin orchestra under Professor Harold Geerdes' direction has made several outstanding performances this year. Although its major function was to play for the Messiah and Elijah, it also took part in the Fall Music Festival and for the first time it appeared in the annual Spring Choral Festival.

RADIO CHOIR

Professor James De Jonge

"Sing to God Almighty, sitting on the throne . . ." Thousands of radio listeners hear these familiar words sung by the Radio Choir each week on the Back-to-God Hour. Under the direction of Professor James De Jonge, the choir's greatest responsibility was the weekly broadcast but it also took part in the Fall Music Festival, in chapel, and at Reformation Day Rallies. The climax of the year came with the choir traveling to the west coast on their spring tour.

MEISTERSINGERS

Donald Postema

"O Magic of Song! here loveliness may sleep unhindered of life's mortal toil." The desire to perform fine music prompts the organization of the Meistersingers, organized and directed by students. A musical group of this type holds a unique place in campus life because of its affinity with popular likes and demands. Among the activities of this season, the Meistersingers turned to Chicago and vicinity where they presented concerts in various churches. This was the first concert tour since the organization of the chorus four years ago. In addition to the outdoor Moonlight Musicales and appearances at Homecoming and the Junior-Senior Banquet, the chorus participated in the Fall Music Festival, provided special music for chapel services, and gave concerts in and around Grand Rapids.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Professor Seymour Swets

"Notes inspiring hold love. Notes that wing their heavenly ways, To heavenly choirs above." Music as an expression of man's soul in communion with his Maker conveys immeasurable beauty. The blending of sixty voices intensifies this beauty providing a personal and memorable experience for both performer and listener. A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Professor Seymour Swets, through the performance of its music serves as medium to share artistic enjoyment and spiritual edification with many groups. The choir participated in the Midwest Choir Festival, and performed for the Lotus Club, the Fall Music Festival, and chapel services. Highlighting this season's activity was a tour through the Eastern states, where the choir gave several concerts in the local churches.

THE SPIANS

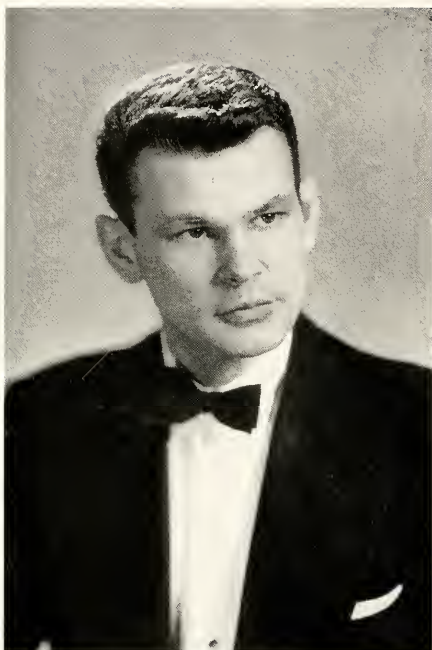

Mrs. Martin Batts, Jr.

The dusty tomes of Shakespeare's plays were put back on library shelves, and grease paint, set floats, and costumes disappeared for another year. The Thespians realized that with their two productions, "Life With Mother" and "The Merchant of Venice," they had reached two important club objectives: entertainment of an audience, and a greater appreciation for drama at Calvin. The Thespian Club holds the unique position on Calvin campus of being both a club and an accredited course. Directing the group is Mrs. Martin Batts, and the position of faculty advisor is filled by Professor Melvin Berghuis. Functioning as a club, Thespians is selective in its membership, holding tryouts to test the acting ability of the prospective members and keeping this membership at fifty. As a course, Thespians gives each member a mark and returns its profits to the school office. To strengthen this dual position the organization this year adopted a club constitution and met at a specified time and place as a class.

The discussion topic for 1956 was, "How can we implement the Supreme Court decision for racial integration in the public schools of America?" This subject was welcomed by the discussion group for it posed a problem which they felt merited the attention of Calvin students. As might be expected, the group reached no definite solution for the problem. However, with the other schools in the tournaments, they did agree that integration should be begun immediately by working through the border states of the South. Three members of the discussion group, Walter Terris, Jim Haagsma, and Don Byker, received Excellent awards at Wayne University.

DEBATE

A Championship was the climax of the debate season. In preparation for the state tournament, the varsity teams participated in out-of-state meets at Northwestern University and at Case Institute in Cleveland, Ohio. At the Michigan State Meet which was held at Michigan State University, the team made a clean sweep by obtaining six wins for the six debates to capture the Inter-Collegiate Speech League Debate crown. Excellent ratings were won by Jack Monsma and Walter Terris. The novice debaters participated in three tournaments this season. Their 50-50 win-loss record is above average for novice debators at Calvin, thereby promising Coach Nelvin Vos an experienced nucleus for next year's varsity.

For years basketball has been the leading sport in Calvin's athletic tradition. This year was no exception. From the opening practice it was felt that this would be OUR year. The Calvin Knights returned to the hardwoods with a single goal—to win. And win they did! Led by a squad consisting of five seniors, the Maroon and Gold chalked up a 17-4 season record—one of the best in the history of Calvin basketball. This season the number three appeared to be a significant one. Calvin was beginning its third year under Coach Barney Steen: the Knights were to participate in Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association competition for the third year; and the result was an MIAA championship for the third straight time—followed by the third straight Glory Day. As a result of this outstanding success, Coach Steen was named Coach of the Year by the Michigan chapter of the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics. The Knights opened the season by defeating both Aquinas and Junior College, thus serving notice to MIAA teams what they could expect. Albion, Ferris, Adrian, and Alma fell to Calvin before the Knights lost to a powerful Central Michigan team in a non-conference game at Burton Gym.

They resumed their winning streak by taking Hillside and Kalamazoo, and then rolled over arch rival Hope by a score of 85-57 in the Civic Auditorium. After defeating Olivet, Calvin traveled to Wheaton where they suffered their second loss of the season at the hands of the Crusaders. Beginning the second half of conference play, Coach Steen's men defeated Adrian, Ferris, Alma, and Hillsdale all for the second time.

And then, leading the MIAA with a perfect 10-0 record, Calvin traveled to Hope and received their first conference loss and their third setback of the season. After defeating Olivet and Taylor, the MIAA title was clearly within reach. But Kalamazoo postponed Calvin's championship celebration by defeating the Knights in an over-time thriller at Kalamazoo. Then in the big homecoming game, Calvin climaxed a brilliant season by defeating Albion, and, here were the Champs for the third straight year. This season also marked the end of five brilliant Calvin cage careers. Seniors Tony Diekema, Jim Kok, Don Vroon, Arnie Rottman, and Gord De Kruyter retired after leading Calvin to three successive championships. Calvin fans applauded the efforts of these five men, not only for their outstanding basketball ability, but also for the sportsmanship they displayed both on and off the floor. A late news bulletin places Vroon, Kok, and Newhof on the 1956 All-MIAA squad.

MANAGERS

M. Zuidema, R. Pothoven, R. Baukema.

Sports are one of the things that keep most of the people busy all of the time with all sorts of going round in circles like trying to write copy and pitch balls and throw things and win races and knock over pieces of wood and burn fires and buy tickets and go to ball games and make noise and support the team and win championships and MIAA teams and coach Steen and Glory Day, and you know the rest.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Under the capable guidance of Coach Dave Tuuk, the Junior Varsity had a very successful season this year compiling an impressive 11-5 record. Against MIAA competition the Junior Varsity suffered only one loss while winning six. Besides their MIAA competition, the rugged schedule included games against top city league teams, Muskegon Junior College, and freshmen teams from Central Michigan and Western Michigan. Following the example of the Varsity, the Junior Varsity employed the double pivot and the fast break in the battles with their opponents. They were led by such promising men as Dave Tubergen, Rich Sharda, Ken Betten, Bill Bauman, and Don Koopman, who was added at midseason. Next year, these men will take the places of the five seniors who will be lost by graduation. Combined with the Knights that will be returning, they will carry on the Calvin tradition in the next few years.

KNIGHTIES

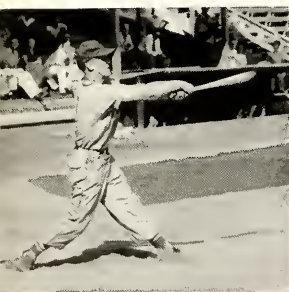

Not to be outdone by the Knights, the Knighties also came through with a championship for the 1955-56 season. This is the third consecutive year in which they have taken the crown in the Grand Rapids Pin-Up League. The team, with a nucleus of returning veterans under the tutelage of Nell Oosthoek had little trouble in completing this season undefeated. The forwards, using a sharp aggressive fast break, had an easy time outscoring their opponents while a defensive wall of tall guards held the scoring of other teams to a minimum. An outstanding accomplishment of the team this year was the scoring of 27 points in one quarter. The only opponent to give the Calvin girls a battle was Goodwin Pontiac, who lost to the Knighties by the score of 43-35, 30-28, and 41-11. Losing only one player by graduation, the team has high hopes for another championship next year.

BASEBALL

Double, Norm?

With the loss of ace pitchers John DeMey and Herm Kolk, the Knights ended the 1955 season with an 8-10 overall record. The Maroon and Gold's MIAA record included three wins over four losses. Pete Van Vliet and Marty Essenburg bore the brunt of the pitching burden while freshmen Jerry Grasman and Pete Teune also held starting positions as mound men. Both Van Vliet and Essenburg gained three victories during the season. The receiving end of the battery was filled by Gord De Kruyter. Leading in all-around play and excelling in offense, infielder Stan Holt-house was named to the MIAA all-conference team. Stan batted a .368 average, led the team in extra base hits, and had 11 RBI's. Another offensive bulwark was Chuck Witteveen who blasted out 22 hits as he led the team in batting with an outstanding .379 average. Don Vroon had the third best average when he batted .289.

TRACK

"A record, Mel?"

"To your marks! Get set! GO!" pervaded the early spring air at the Ottawa track as Coach Dave Tuuk marshalled his charges through a conditioning program for the 1955 season. The lack of a large turnout of veterans was compensated by a large number of freshmen candidates. The men engaged in the field events began their workouts in the gym and later transferred to the East Campus where jumping pits and the rings for the shot put and the discus had been constructed. The unimpressive record compiled during the season was overshadowed by Mel Veenema's breaking of the javelin record set the previous year and other individual performances. Veenema, with no previous experience, made his record throw of 166' 11" in the latter part of the season in a dual meet at Houseman Field with Grand Rapids Junior College. The Knights are confident that Mel, who is only a sophomore, will attain yet greater heights.

The thinclads began their season in a triangular meet with Ferris and Adrian at Houseman Field and were defeated by both schools. Calvin next journeyed to Albion where they encountered the conference champions, the Albion Britons, and went down to defeat. In a quadrangular with Hope, Alma, Olivet participating, Calvin left the cinder path in second place. The remaining two meets were duals with Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids Junior College, both of which the Knights lost. The Conference Meet, the event which determines the finish of the schools in the MIAA, was held at Angel Field in Kalamazoo. The student body voted Sylvia Bos to be their queen at this annual event. The squad chose Duane Vander Brug, top point-getter and holder of a hurdle record, to escort Miss Bos.

CROSS COUNTRY

Topping the crest of a hill, stretching and on the decline, and leveling into a long, even stride over hill and dale, through glen and wood, a solitary figure presses toward his goal, the completion of the four mile cross country grind. The nucleus of Calvin's third place finish was Pete Steen, Bob Korthuis, Chip Stonehouse, Bernie Greenfield, Don Vroon, and Milt Kuyers. These harriers posted a 5-2 record in dual competition, which, completed with a third in the MIAA Conference Meet, gave the Knights a third in the final standings. Coach Dave Tuuk anticipates a successful 1956 season as four of the above lettermen will return, two being juniors and two freshmen. The outstanding prospect of the future is freshmen Bob Korthuis who was clocked at 22 minutes and 32 seconds on the Indian Trails course, breaking the mark set the previous year.

TENNIS

Under the guidance of a new coach, M. Karsten, the 1955 Knights completed a successful season of five wins and four losses; all five of their wins came in conference competition. The number one man was again Roger Boerema, who has remained in that position for the third straight year. Rounding out the squad were Schreur, Kok, Sharda, Bouwman, Boer, and B. Kooistra. With only two graduates on this year's tennis team, another new coach, Mr. A. B. Lewen, hopes to complete the 1956 season successfully.

GOLF

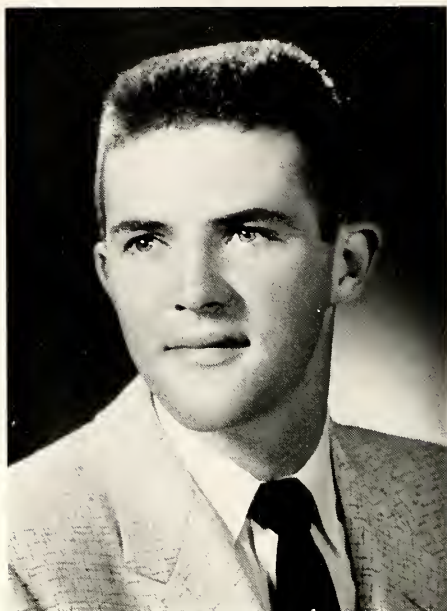

"Easee Tom."

The 1956 Calvin College linksmen began their Spring training in the college gymnasium by driving out a few long balls. Coach Karsten's team was centered around a nucleus of three returning lettermen, Tom O'Hara, Rog Nykamp, and Bill Kooistra. Rounding out the squad was Lou Brasser, winner of the intramural tournament the previous fall, and Preston Krommedyke. Alternate man was Vernon Ehlers. Although the Knights did not have a very successful season, there was a bright side to the picture in the name of Tom O'Hara. Tom was the number one man for the previous two years. Statistics show that Tom was one of the best golfers in the MIAA last year, averaging 1.8 medal points per game, and carrying a stroke average of 79.9 per match. Rog Nykamp made a fine showing last year as the number two man, averaging 1.4 medal points per game. Completing the regular conference season in seventh place, the Knights went to Kalamazoo where they placed fifth in the tournament, thus finishing sixth in the MIAA.

BERÉ MEMORIAL

The Beré Memorial Award was perpetuated in 1951 by the Varsity Club in honor of Joe Beré who was killed in an automobile accident while enroute home from a Calvin-Ferris basketball game. The award is presented annually to a senior varsity letter winner and is based upon athletic ability (50%), character (30%), scholastic standing (20%), and participation in other activities (10%). This year the coaches, faculty athletic committee, and student council representative felt that the honor should go to a pre-Law student from Miami—Don Vroon. Don excelled in basketball for three years and also received three varsity letters in baseball and cross country. He was chosen all-MIAA in basketball during his sophomore, junior, and senior years, and he was Calvin's Student Representative to the MIAA in his senior year. Don Vroon also received the Randall Bosch award his senior year, which is given annually to the most valuable player in the MIAA.

DR.
CECIL DEBOER

1898-1955

Professor of Philosophy

1950-1955

Dr. Cecil DeBoer first came to Calvin almost forty years ago, when he matriculated in the old Preparatory School. After eight years on the campus, he graduated from the College in 1924, and with a brilliant record. He went on to graduate work at the University of Michigan, receiving his doctor's degree in 1927. The ensuing twenty-three years he spent in teaching and research at the universities of Michigan, Arkansas, and Idaho, meanwhile publishing The If's and Ought's of Ethics, as well as articles and reviews in the professional journals.

The faculty rejoiced when, five years ago, he accepted an appointment to the staff at Calvin. In Dr. DeBoer we acquired a scholar of tested and recognized ability, one who had never wavered in his loyalty to the Reformed faith, one whom we all respected, one whose company and Frisian forthrightness we enjoyed, one who worked hard for the college, one who, by his articles and editorials in The Calvin Forum did much for the denomination and for Calvinism at large.

SENATE

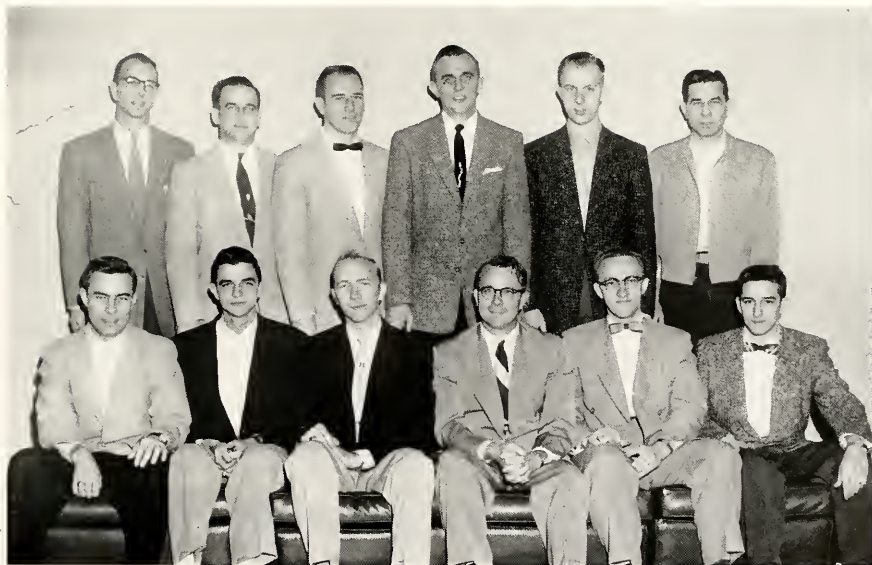

The student body of Calvin Seminary is called the Corpse. It is the oldest student organization of the Seminary, begun in August, 1884. The purpose of Corps according to its first constitution was "to aid in the formation and betterment of the students mutually and in their development severally." The senate is the governing board or executive council of Corps. In addition to this duty, the Senate also prepares the agenda for the Corps meetings, and serves as liaison between the Corps and the faculty.

NIL NISI VERUM

Nil Nisi Verum, the oldest of the Seminary groups, passed through another year of profitable and enjoyable bi-weekly meetings. Recognizing the pedagogical principle that a good way to learn about and appreciate a thing is to contrast it with what it is not, the club spent the season studying Otto Weber's summary of Karl Barth's Church Dogmatics. This study of Barth, conducted in the light of Scripturally orthodox principles, acquainted the club members with the errors of the influential Barthian system of thought. It proved to be a stimulus to a deeper appreciation for their own Reformed position. Discussion was guided by Dr. John Kromminga.

SEMINARY CHOIR

The Seminary Choir has completed another active year. Composed of thirty men, almost one-third of the Seminary Corps, it truly represents the school. It is an integral part of the school's life, and enjoys the support of all who are interested in relating the activities of the school to all the facets of the young minister's work. Activities included participation in college and seminary chapel exercises and social functions, as well as concerts in churches in the Grand Rapids area. For the third time in its existence the choir engaged in a brief tour, spending the few days between semesters in Chicago. The group this year was under the new leadership of Professor Seymour Swets. Compositions of the Reformation period and selections current in America were featured.

NISI DOMINO FRUSTRA

This year the members of Nisi Domino Frustra have continued the systematic study of Calvin's Institutes. Aware of the significance of the material, serious attempts were made toward a complete comprehension. Lengthy discussions encouraged conflicting opinions and dissenters were not prohibited. The sponsor, Dr. Henry Stob, lucidly unraveled numerous problems. Meetings were held bi-weekly in the Seminary Lounge.

QUO PRO REGE

On January 8, 1956, five Christian missionaries were martyred by savage Indians in Ecuador, South America. These men were well educated and trained, and, although of another denomination, the memory of these brothers in Christ challenges us continually in the Quo Pro Rege. The club was organized six years ago for the purpose of arriving at "greater clarity concerning the principles and methods to be followed in the presentation of the Gospel." Meeting bi-weekly the club discusses many facets of the problem of communicating the message of salvation in Christ. Guided by our sponsor, Professor Harold Dekker, we personally seek an answer to the question in our club name, Quo Pro Rege: "Whither for the King?"

FIDES QUAERIT INTELLECTUM

A new club joined the roster of Seminary clubs when Fides Quaerit Intellectum was organized in October. The club was formed because need was felt for more discussion groups. Meeting bi-weekly, the members took turns entertaining the group in their homes. Important theological works, past and present, were considered for a clearer understanding in the light of Scripture and our Reformed confessions. This year the club studied The Institutes of the Christian Religion by John Calvin. Fides Quaerit Intellectum was lead by Professor Martin Woudstra.

STANDING: D. Wisse, S. Woudstra, J. De Vries, L. Wolters, R. Bruxyvoort, D. Van Gent.

SEATED: Dr. C. Kromminga, R. Van Harn, G. Negen, E. Meyer, J. Timmer.

GAMMA BETA THETA

Gamma Beta Theta is now in its second year. Its organization was promoted by a feeling among the students that more orientation to problems facing a minister would be of value. This group meets bi-weekly at various homes to discuss papers written by the members on the subject under consideration. Club meetings consist of critical comment and discussion in a pleasant atmosphere of sociability. Prof. Carl Kromminga served as sponsor again this year.

SEMINARY DAMES

"Make me a blessing to someone today" is the theme and prayer of the Seminary Dames who meet the first Thursday of each month. Mrs. John Kromminga is the sponsor. The program for each meeting is prepared by a different committee. The challenge of a missionary's slides and words, a social worker speaks words of advice, or a book is reviewed. At one meeting, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Masselink spoke on "Life in the Parsonage and Church." As a group, opportunities for meeting new friends is provided and a wide background of experience is supplied to deal with future responsibilities in the manse.

Thank You . . .

This is the end of the book and the end of the line. In a few pages of advertising and index the book will close. After a few finals and good-by's the school year will close. For about two hundred of us our Calvin career will close. Things are coming to an end.

At the end of things is the place where people start slapping each other on the back and telling each other how well they did. That is the purpose of this page too. Our thanks will not be profuse, however. It will be only a sincere "Thank You." Less than that is rude. More than this is superfluous. Therefore, to Mr. Rogers, Mr. Noer, and the entire staff. "Thank You."

Joann enjoys the pleasant and stimulating environment of the modern business office. She is shown here taking dictation from her employer, Mr. James Badaluco.

Joann Vroom Austin is another outstanding example of the successful Calvin-Davenport business woman. After one year at Calvin College, Joann enrolled in the executive Secretarial Course at Davenport Institute. Upon graduation one year later, she was employed as secretary to Mr. James Badaluco, Manager of the J. C. Miller Division of Hanson-Van Winkle-Munnins Company of New Jersey.

Joann's recent marriage to Jerry Austin did not interrupt her business career. In fact, she plans to continue in her present position while Jerry serves his time in the Armed Forces. In the event, however, that Jerry is stationed in a location where Joann can join him, she will find that Davenport Institute's nationwide employment service will serve her well in finding a top-flight office position.

Joann's experience is further evidence of the rewarding employment opportunities open to college-trained women with specialized business training.

From the Spark to the Prism

Congratulations to you on your 1956 edition! You have mirrored faithfully and well the many-sided life of Calvin College and Seminary.

I too attempt to catch that many-sidedness as it extends from the halls of Calvin to every corner of the world. From Japan, from South America, from the Netherlands, from Canada, from every part of the United States come the news items of Calvin Alumni who have graduated from the Prism to the Spark.

My organization welcomes into its membership all those for whom June 1956 means the termination of student days at Calvin. Won't you ask them to contact the Calvin Alumni Association?

Yours sincerely,

You're Guaranteeing Your Own Future!

Congratulations, Seniors, on your perspicacity. Completion of your education demonstrates your vision, your ability to see ahead. Indeed, to quote Henry Ford II: "Nobody can really guarantee the future. The best we can do is size up the chances, calculate the risks involved, estimate our ability to deal with them and then make our plans with confidence."

We're glad to number among your group, many of our youthful depositors, and many of the career people who want to work in a bank. We're happy that so many of you can say:
